getAbstract Names International Book Award Nominees

Shortlist recognizes 20 books that guide better business decisions

AVENTURA, Fla.—(August 7, 2019)—getAbstract, the world’s largest library of compressed knowledge, today announced the nominees for the 19th annual getAbstract International Book Award, presented at the Frankfurt Book Fair on October 16, 2019. The award recognizes two English and two German books that have made outstanding contributions to social debates over the past year. For the first time, getAbstract will partner with the business magazine Capital.

This year, Capital’s editor-in-chief, Horst von Buttlar, will join members of the getAbstract editorial staff on the award’s jury panel. Furthermore, starting in August, the magazine’s website will feature weekly book reviews accompanied by author portraits.

“We believe that sound knowledge is the basis for better decisions. With our shortlist, and later our winners, we want to help readers find such knowledge. We are delighted to have Capital as a strong media partner on our side for the award,” said Patrick Brigger, co-founder and chairman of getAbstract.

“Presenting interesting and relevant books to our readers has always been an integral part of Capital’s format,” said Horst von Buttlar. “I’m delighted that we’re giving business books a bigger stage with this joint award.”
